THE HAPPY BOND.-We have heretofore alluded to the marriage of our brother Bond, of the Enfield Times to his cousin Miss Maggie Bond, of Brownsville, Texas. We take from the Weekly States, of that place, the following handsome allusion to the ceremony and endorse it heartily, and add our wish that the bond of matrimony may have a lasting bond of unalloyed happiness:

"We congratulate our handsome and talented contemporary of the Enfield Times upon his happiness. It is rarely the case that such good fortune ever comes, like a ray of sunshine through a rift of dark clouds. to guild with its sweet and joyous light the weary labors of the editorial profession. It has come in the case of our friend, and his happiness is assured. No matter what his future life may be, or where, or how, fate may cast his destiny, he has what is better than all else, the love of a pure, beautiful and good wife, and that is happiness enough. He has taken from our midst one of our fairest flowers, but we are well-assured that he will wear her like a Knight of old. No sorrow, no pain, no care, or trouble will ever reach her, that can be warded off by his loving care. We hope that the measure of their happiness will be the length of their days, and when old age shall come, that the grey-haired matron will live in his heart as the bride of yester-

HOW BROTHER WHITAKER WAS Sold.—One day during the late State Fair Brother Whitaker, of the Friend of Temperance, was seated in the Grand Stand, where he was approached by a friend who asked him if he did not wish to see a Champion Cotton Picker. Brother W., ever alive to the agricultural interest of the State, promptly responded in the affirmative and started off with his friend, with pencil and note book in hand, ready to note the points of excellence of the machine. On arriving at the spot designated by the friend aforesaid, Bro. W., acting on a suggestion, mounted on a bench to get a better view. "Where, where is the machine," queried the unsophisticated man of the quill? "Look over there," said the heartless friend, pointing to a ward of the nation at work in an adjacent field, "and you will see him," and coolly turning on his heel wended his way back to the crowd. A sudden light seemed to dawn on Bro. Whitaker. An expression of mingled disgust and mortification spread over his usually placid face and, as he slowly dismounted from his perch, he was heard to mutter a few incoherent words, the exact tenor of which could not be caught.

DISCHARGED CONVICTS FROM THE Penitentiary.—The depredations of discharged convicts from the Penitentiary is a grievous burden upon this community. Nearly one-half of the 26 inmates now in the Penitentiary from this county are individuals who had previously served a term therein, and many of them re-sentenced originally hailed from other counties. The policy of discharging convicts without giving them any means to reach their old homes has promoted crime in our midst, besides adding greatly to the expenses of our Superior Courts. Convicts fresh from the Penitentiary cannot obtain employment, when this fact is known to our citizens. Labor ordinarily is plentiful but every one is averse to employing a discharged criminal. The consequence is, when one of these "birds" is discharged, he is necessarily forced to seek companionship amongst the most abandoned portion of our community, among whom he finds individuals whose first acquaintance was formed in the State prison. The sympathy and fellow-feeling existing between them induces fellowship, and banded together, and enable or unwilling to work, they necessarily resort to theft for a livelihood. The two condemned felons, sentenced for burglary, now in our jail, were discharged convicts, and part of a large gang operating in this section for some time past. It should be the policy of our law makers to prevent these parties banding together, and to this end, we heartily endorse the bill, introduced in the House on yesterday by Mr. Gorman, of Wake, which authorizes the Penitentiary officials to require convicts, twelve months before the expiration of their sentence, to work one hour extra per day, three days in each week, for the purpose of creating a fund, not to exceed $10, which shall be given them to defray their expenses to their old homes, or elsewhere, upon their discharge. Some such action, on the part of the prison authorities, is earnestly and justly demanded by the people of this county. WE BET .- The following we clip from the last issue of the Jefferson

THE DECISION OF JUDGE WATTS N THE MATTER OF THE PUBLIC PRINTING.—The case of Brown vs. Turner was continued before Judge Watts at Chambers yesterday morning, and was argued at some length. The Court adjourned at 2 o'clock, and Judge Watts rendered the following decision yesterday evening: North Carolina, In the Superior Court at Chambers, Raigheld WAKE COUNTY, eigh, January 21st, 1874.

Wm. M. Brown, plaintiff, vs. Josiah Turner, Jr., and W. H. Howerton, Secretary of State-Application for Mandamus and Injunction. The foregoing case was brought before me at Chambers, after due and legal notice to the defendants, on the 20th day of January, A. D. 1874, under section 381 C. C. P., both parties being represented by counsel.

The defendant, Howerton, answers the complaint but raises no issue of fact or law except by implication, based upon the opinion of the Attor-

The defendant, Josiah Turner, Jr., demurred to the complaint and assigns for cause, the following:

1. Defect of parties plaintiff, " for that the Attorney General should have brought action in the name of the people of the State.

2. The complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause 1. For that Tod R. Caldwell had no right to appoint the plaintiff Public Printer, Binder and Contractor. 2. For that the plaintiff has not been duly appointed Public and State Printer and Contractor. 3. For that mandamus is not the appropriate remedy for the case made by the complaint. The Court is of the opinion that the first assigned cause of demurrer and the third sub-division of second ground of demurrer raises the same question of law, as to whether the writs or proceedings in the nature of quo warranto or mandamus would be the proper remedy. It is the opinion of the Court that mandamus is the proper remedy, especially as the Attorney General, as appears by the complaint; refused the use of his name to the Plaintiff in order that the action might be brought in the name of the people of the State, for without the extraordinary writ of mandamus, the Attorney General could deprive, by his refusal, a citizen from asserting his rights through the Courts where a wrong had been committed, presenting the anomalous practice of a right without any rem-

As to the second ground of Demurrer the Court overrules, because the complaint itself raises facts sufficient upon which the Court ought to pro-

As to the first subdivision of the 2nd cause of Demurrer, to wit: That Tod R. Caldwell had no right to appoint the Plaintiff Public Printer, Binder and Contractor, the whole and main question is raised, and is in fact the question here litigated, is the Public Printer an officer within the meaning of the Constitution, and if so, has the Governor of the State the right to appoint?

After hearing all the arguments and an examination of law, and the recent decisions of the Supreme Court, am of the epinion, that a public officer is he who does any act or series of acts for the government; and that the distinction between a mere agentor place man, and a public officer, is that of an agent or contractor, who is bound by the specifications, specifically set forth in the articles of agreement or contract; and that an agent, under the goverment, or office, within the meaning of the law, is he whose duties are prescribed by law. I am therefore of the opinion that the Public Printer of the State, is an officer, and overrule the cause of demurrer. As to the 2nd sub-division of 2nd cause of demurrer raising the question as to whether the plaintiff is properly appointed to the office of Public Printer, and properly inducted into office. I am of the opinion that the Gov-ernor has the right under the constitution, to appoint all officers not otherwise provided for by law, to fill vacancies whenever they occur in such instances, and to fill by appointment all offices created by law whenever a vacancy occurs.

It is true that he is to nominate, and by and with the consent of the Senate the appointment is to be made, but the Supreme Court hath decided in the case of Howerton against Tate, 68 North Carolina reports, that whenever the Legislature assumes the right to appoint in derrogation of the powers and rights of the Executive, that the Executive need not, and is not compelled to send his nominations to the Senate for confirmation, for these and other reasons. I overrule the assigned cause of demurrer, and hold that he is properly inducted into the office and grant judgment in favor of the plaintiff according to the prayer of complaint. 1. That writ of Peremptory mandamus issue to be served on the defendant, W. H. Howerton, commanding him to prepare and certify according to law, and deliver to the plaintiff as Public and State Printer and Binder and Contractor for the Public Printing and Binding, copies of all the acts, resolutions and journals of the General Assembly and all other Public Documents required by law to be furnished by the Secretary of State to the plaintiff as Printer and Binder as aforesaid, that they may be printed for and in behalf of the State of North Carolina by the said plaintiff. 2. That the order of injunction against Josiah Turner, Jr., heretofore granted in this behalf, be and is hereby made perpetual. 3. That plaintiff recover his costs in this behalf incurred. S. W. WATTS, J. S. C. From which judgment the defendants pray and are allowed an appeal. Notice waived. S. W. WATTS, J. S. C.

THE CONCERT LAST EVENING. Tucker Hall last night was the scene of one of the most interesting musical entertainments which was ever offered the citizens of Raleigh; the high character of the entertainment insured the attendance of the elite of the city, many of whom are counaisNO. 118.

public ever ready to do homage to home talent. The Sextette (com-posed of Messrs. Meyerhoff, Grotz, Nowell, Royster, Simpson and Bus-bee) called forth rounds of applause by their finished renditions. The seby their finished renditions. The selections, the "Zampa" and "Tancreti" Overtures were emminently happy, being not only of high classical order, but pleasing to a general audience.

A gratifying event of the evening was the appearance of Miss Ada Slater. This lady has a richness and scope of voice which gives great promise. Her rendition of Arditi's "Magnetic Waltz" called forth prolonged applause. In the duet with Mons. Grotz, Miss Slater convinced all of her perfect control and love of her art. We hope that this fair daughter of North Carolina will give us more frequent opportunities to hear her.

Of Messrs. Meyerhoff and Grotz we can but repeat the opinion expressed on a previous occasion: that they have no superiors in the Southern country. Their piano duets were rare treats, and as such were fully appreciated by the audience. Dr. Von Meyerhoff's rendition of Hertz' Concerto in C. Minor displayed to great advantage his great dexterity, while the pathos and feeling of this classical composition were given with a true soul of music. Professor Grotz played Gottschalk's "Last Hope," a piece which was once called by an eminent critic "the pleading music;" it was played in a manner and style worthy of both composer and artist. We regret that space does not permit us to notice this very meritorious performance at greater length.

A LUDICROUS SCENE.—"The World's Fool," Cyrus Holmes, who is, by the way, no relation of the redoubtable Jessie, opened his usual exercises of religious whorship, at the usual place, on the Court House steps, at the usual hour, yesterday afternoon. The usual audience had gathered around, and the usual preleminary remarks incident to the taking of the text, had been made by the inspired(?) Cyrus. Joe Garlick, an old country darkey, who usually visits the city about once a week, and unusually returns home sober, made his usual visit on yesterday, and as his usual custom, got on a spree as usual. Passing down Fayetteville street, as is usually his custom, he was attracted by an unusual occurrence at the Court House, viz: the preaching of a sermon from the door steps. Approaching the scene to gratify his usual curiosity, and finding out what was up, Joe thought he had as much right to preach in public as "any other man." and at once opened an opposition shop" to the "World's Fool," taking as his text, "who made de trees." The effect was electrical all the boys in town "hearkened to the voice" of Joe, and demonstrated to such an extent that Cyrus yeilded the palm, and left Joe, with a large and increasing audience, master of the situation. This unusual occurrence was wit nessed by us just as we left our usual seat in the Senate Chamber, as the usual Reporter of the News, and where the whole day had been occupied in the discussion of the Usury

A RUNAWAY AND ITS RESULTS.-Yesterday morning, about 11 o'clock the young gray team of Mr. Wm. G. Upchurch, attached to his dray, taking advantage of the temporary absence of the driver, dashed down Fayettville and turned down Martin street, east of Fayetteville. Then came the "tug of war," for here were wagons, cotton, horses, men and dogs piled together indiscriminately. The runaways, with their heavy dray behind them, dashed furiously into the mass and went through without damage to themselves or the dray, halting in front of Rogers' livery stables.

In their passage through the crowded mass, between Fayetteville and Wilmington streets, several smaller wagons, with the horses at-tached, were piled together, and in some instances the drivers were forced beneath the confusion of horses and wagons, creating a general consternation; but a close examination afterwards exhibited the fact, that the only serious injury sustained was the death of a splendid looking dog that had unfortunately placed himself on the line of the stampede, RELIGIOUS.-On this afternoon at 3 o'clock, there will be an "enquirer's meeting" at Dr. Pritchard's Baptist Church in the basement, and at 4 o'clock a meeting for the children. LEGISLATIVE.—In the Senate yesterday the whole day was occupied in the discussion of the bill to establish a uniform rate of interest in North Carolina, with its many amendments. As the Senate reporter, we did not publish the amendments as passed, from the fact that we propose to publish the bill when perfected and passed by the House. There was unusual interest manifested in the bill, and much member-lobbying indulged in. An important amendment, upon which the ayes and nays was called, was voted upon, and the vote being very close as ascertained by the call, several members rose to change their votes, when Mr. Cowles arose and demanded, as his right as a member of the Senate, that the vote be announced by the chair, and complained of the inexcusable delay in that officer.

Mr. Dunham, who voted in the negative on the passage of the bill, changed his vote that he might move reconsideration of the vote. Pending the discussion on his motion to reconsider, the Senate adjourned.

THE DIAMOND COTTON CHOPPER AND CULTIVATOR.—This implement, the invention of a North Carolinian. promises to be of immense advanage to the cotton planters of the South. From the number of high testimonials which it bears, we are convinced of its excellence. It bars both sides of the cotton, chops out, weeds and dirts the cotton at one operation. It is worked with one man and one horse as easily as an ordinary plow. After the chopping, it is converted into a harrow sweep for cultivating between the rows.

We understand that Messrs. A. G. Lee & McMackin have secured an Agency for the sale of the plow in this city. It could not have fallen into more reliable or better hands. We recommend our cotton planting friends to give them a call. This is a matter of much importance, and demands earnest consideration. HON. T. C. FULLER.-This eminent orator and much beloved son of the South, has been engaged to respond to the first toast—"The Day we Celebrate," on the night of the 17th March-St. Patrick's Day. This announcement alone insures for the occasion an intellectual treat which will be much relished in the city of Raleigh. [For the Daily News.

Immigration Should be Encouraged. MESSRS. EDITORS:-It is gratifying to every one, who has the permanent welfare of our good old State at heart, to notice that the Legislature is taking additional steps in lishing a Board of Immigration. This is a wise movement in the right direction, and if properly carried out is well calculated to introduce a new element of prosperity in the future destiny of the State. But the estab-lishment of such a Board, although composed, it, may be, of some of our most intelligent individuals, will effect little or no good in the influx of immigration if its members simply occupy "easy chairs," and do not actively bestir themselves individually and through such State aid as may be given to inaugurate and perseveringly carry into execution the great and important work before them. Already has our sister State of Virginia, now on the high road of progressive improvement, set as a noble example in introducing into her midst a large number of immigrants, of the right sort, principally from England—laborers, mechanics, and educated persons, who, we are informed, after a residence of one and two years, are thus far well pleased with their prospects and Wm. Gaskins vs Wm. Fenner, newly adopted homes. Much of this successful beginning has been accomplished by sending abroad a few active agents to spread before the dense masses of Europe a fair, and correct knowledge of the surpassing advan-tages of the South—its temperate climate, its fine farming lands, its unexcelled water powers, its rich mineral treasures, and other diversified re-sources. These are realities pertaining to the greater portion of the Southern States—gifts of Providence which greet the eye and cheer the heart of every intelligent observer. At the last session of the Legislature we made application for a new county to be formed out of portions of Granville, Warren and Franklin. We had strong merits, we thought, having within the proposed limits nearly twelve thousand inhabitants, being more than Lillington or any other county now proposed to be made. Then, too, unlike that proposed county, the people within the borders were and are nearly unanimous for it. Again, Franklin county with about 18,000 population and with 3,100 voters, had recently been inequitably reduced to one member by the creation of the new county of Swain. To make Gilliam county then would have been merely the restoration of a member to this section. But we were refused upon the ground that this Legislature was determined to make no more new counties. Now, we have nothing to say against the making of any other county whatever, but we do ask that if the Legislature has changed its rule of conduct, laid down in our case last winter, we do most respectfully submit that they should in justice now regard the claims of our proposed county of PEACE reigns in Texas. On Tuesday Ex-Gov. Davis and his subordinates surrendered the several offices of the State to Gov. COKE; and the latter is now in peaceful possession of the place to which the voice of the people of Texas had called him. Before vacating, DAVIS twice appealed to the President for bayonets to sustain him in position, but being twice refused, he concluded to act upon the advice given in the letter containing the refusal and yield.

The thing was ungraciously done, but now that it is done we rejoice that the people of Texas have been shared the humiliation and oppression which has fallen to the lot of Louisiana. If the President had refused interference in the case of the latter as he did in that of the former, KELLOGG and his harpies would not disgrace official stations in the Peli-

IT IS too bad certainly. PINCHBACK is angry and a nation weeps-perhaps. It seems that he is to be slain in the house of his friends. Mr. Morton, on Tuesday, asked unanimous consent to take up the resolution for PINCHBACK's admission to a seat in the Senate, that he might move its re-committal to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. The reason given for this action was not to determine the legality of PINCHBACK'S election, or of the Kellogg government, but to make some investigation into the personal conduct of PINCHBACK in that elec-

No specific charge is made, but the inference is that PINCHBACK is suspected of using corrupt means to secure his election. Whether such charges be true or not we cannot say. Certainly there has been nothing in the conduct of the men by whom he was elected, and nothing in the character of PINCHBACK himself to render it improbable. Possibly it may be a clever strategem on the part of Morton to prevent any decision upon the legality of the Kellogg usurpation-a sacrifice of PINCHBACK to save the horde of sharpers who hold office in Louisiana through DURELL'S

The Democrats are reported as attacking his political decisions, while the Republicans make war upon his morals. The strength of the combination is said to be "fearful," and there are reasonable hopes that he may yet be punished for his wanton nsult to the will of the people of Louisiana. God grant it! He has wickedly abused the power confided to him. He has been the base and swift oppressor of the people upon whose rights and property he sat in judgment. By an order of his Court he set aside the legitimate officers of the State of Louisiana, and established others, whom the people had rejected at the polls because they were of the same political faith with himself. Let the punishment come. It is high time, surely, that a pause should be had in the destruction of State governments; that some regard should be paid to Constitutional

The Best Methods of Counteracting

Modern Infidelity.—By THEODORE

CHRISTLIEB. HARPER & BROTHERS,

This little work, very handsomely printed and bound, contains one of the most valuable and striking papers that were read before the Evangelical Alliance that met in New York.

Dr. CHRISTLIEB is Professor of Theology and the University Preacher at Bonn, Prussia, and is regarded in Europe as one of the ablest and most learned divines. He was unknown in this country before his late visit, but the impression he made was of the most marked character. The HARPER's have done an excellent thing in publishing his very able paper, as it cannot fail to do good among the ministry and all thinking laymen. It discusses the various phases of modern infidelity, though of course his survey is necessarily rapid. He considers the three 'schools" into which he divides the champions of infidelity, viz: anti-christain philosophy, historical criticism, and natural science, and points out the best way, as he undarstands

it, to counteract their evil influences

We note with unfeigned pleasure and pride every evidence of the growth and prosperity of our sister city, and were, therefore, pleased by the extracts given below from the report of the Hon. R. R. BRIDGERS, President of the Wilmington & Weldon and the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroads, and for which we are indebted to our contemporary of the Journal.

Mr. BRIDGERS says:

"From this exhibit it will appear that the business of the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad has increased in two years $317,126.58, which is a little more than seventysix per cent., while the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad in the same time has increased $159,994.37, which is more than twenty-seven per cent. The tonnage of the former road has more than doubled, while that of the latter has increased more than fifty per cent.' Upon the subject of increase in local business, he adds:

"Comparing 1873 with 1870, the time at which we took charge of the road, there appears an increase of 16,-033 barrels of spirits turpentine, a gain of 913 per cent.; an increase of 81,641 barrels of rosin, a gain of 913 per cent.; an increase of 32,484,230 pounds or 2,030 car loads of general merchandise, a gain of 851 per cent.;

This is, indeed, a gratifying exhibit, and we trust that this report is but the forerunner of numberless others which shall chronicle the well-doing of Wilmington. The result is mainly attributable to the pluck, energy and business qualifications of her merchants; who are surpassed, in these respects, by no body of merchants on the globe. Quite recently their attention has been drawn to the feasibility of establishing direct trade with Great Britain and the Continent. experimental efforts already made give promise of a rich outcome. A DUEL IN INDIANA.—Last Saturday evening, at Jamestown, Boone county, Ind., a quarrel arose between two men named Briggs and McClain, about a lady of whom both were suitors. After discussion it was finally decided to settle the matter by an appeal to arms. The men were accordingly furnished with revolvers, and placed back to back with instructions to advance three paces, then wheel and fire. The men turned simultaneously, McClain firing first and missing his antagonist, who deliberately aimed his pistol and sent a ball through McClain's neck. Briggs then advanced rapidly toward his fallen antagonist and shot him twice more, mortally wounding him. Briggs was arrested and held in $5,000

STRANGE BUT TRUE.—The New York Herald, in a late issue, referred to a marriage which took place in this city recently, the contracting parties being a bride-groom of sixtyseven summers and the bride twentyfour. This is his fourth marriage, and he is the father of thirty-nine children, twenty of whom are now living. He has also forty grand-children. For the information of the public we will state that the marriage referred to by the Herald took place in this city December 18th, and that the contracting parties were Mr. John Webster Perkinson, a physician of Baltimore, Md., formerly of Din-widdie county, Va., and Mrs. Jose-phine Spiver, of this city, formerly of Nansemond county, Va.—Norfolk · Landmark.

The course affairs are taking in the Pennsylvania Legislature fills the old politicans with inexpressible wonder. A short time ago Senator McClure introduced a bill providing for a thorough reform in the manner of holding elections in Philadelphia. On Friday this substitute was considered on its third reading, and, to the consternation of the Ring managers, was defeated for want of the requisite majority.

To the Farmers and Guano Dealers of North Carolina and Virginia: Gentlemen: To the mary of you with whom I am personally acquainted. I would say, that of good results from GUANAHANI GUANO, I have not the shadow of a doubt. Containing, as it does, in such large amounts, the essentials for plant food, success from its application would seem certain. It being of animal origin, you will see at once that its ingredients must be all scluble in the soil. Its nitrogen, from nitric acid, is the most available form known to chemistry; the other part, from undecomposed animal matter, is preferable to the voiatile saits in Peruvian Guano. I ask of each of you the kindness of a thorough examination of the accompanying analyses by two of the great chemists of the country. With respect, yours truly,

WM. R. GRIFFITH, General Agent.

GUARANTEED ANALYSIS. Ammonia, from both Nitrogen and Nitric Acid...

LETTER FROM PROF. WM. C. KERR, STATE GEOLOGIST OF NORTH CAROLINA: Raleigh, N. C., January 7th, 1874. Wm. R. Griffith, Esq., General Agent Guanahani Guano Company, Petersburg, Virginia:

Dear Sir: Dr. F. A. Genth, whose Analysis of the Guanahani Guano you have shown me is Chemical Minerologist to the Geological Survey, and has no superior as a chemist. I have no hesitation in endorsing any analysis from his laboratory. And I think the analys s justifies his statement that the substance examined by him is a VALUABLE

From his report, and that of Prof. Wilson, it is evidently a TRUE GUANO, both in origin and composition, and its action on crops may be expected to be the same in kind and in degree proportioned to its relative per centage of the valuable ingredients—Phosphoric Acid, Ammonia and Potash, that of the first being unusually high.

Yours truly,

W. C. KERR, State Geologist.

ANALYSES. The following analyses of different cargoes and samples by two of the leading chemists of the country, are given for the guidance of the public: LETTER OF PROF. P. B. WILSON, LATE ASSISTANT OF BARON J. VON LIEBIG. CHEMICAL LABORATORY OF PROF. P. B. WILSON, No. 30 Second Street,

CHEMICAL LABORATORY OF PROF. P. B. WILSON, No. 30 Second Street,

Baltimore, December 1st, 1873.

Maj. N. M. Tannor, President Guanahani Guano Company, Petersburg, Va.:

Dear Sir: I have drawn samples of the Guano, as it has arrived in cargo lots, and find it exceedingly uniform in the amount of Phosphoric Acid it contains, namely, from 15 to 19 per cent. This is combined with Lime, and is of animal origin, and readily assimilable by plants. It contains potential ammonia and nitric acid, having a combined Nitrogen value equal to from 2 to 3 per cent. of ammonia, with the alkalies Potash and Soda, and valuable propo tions of sulphate of Lime. The whole forming a very desirable combination for all crops, and when applied to land, the crop receiving proper tiliage, must, in my opinion, give as good results as any guano offered to the farmer.

Being of animal origin, the organitic matter has undergone partial decomposition, and it necessarily contains a valuable amount of Humus, which makes its fertilizing power much greater than fertilizer, which are compounded large y of Peruvian Guano, which, beyond its ammonia and small phosphatic value, has little or no power in absorbing from the atmosphere and retaining in the soil the movable elements absorbed by moisture and brought down by the rains, as the guano you are now placing upon the market. All of the components of this Guano are very soluble in the soil, and possess such physical properties as to render it at all times and under all circumstances as in mediately available plant food.

The late samples you sent me for analysis, from the deposit which you inform me you intend to ship from, show a decease in the phosphatic value, but a large increase in its nitrogen compounds. I think, however, from previous observations of carçoes, that you may reasonably expect, that cargoes taken from where these samples were drawn, will materially improveed in the saline compounds, (phosphates alkalies and magnesia.

P. B. WILSON, Analytical and Consuling Chemist.

Maj. N M. Taannor, Petersburg. Va.,
DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request, I have analy zed sample of "Guanahani Guano," and have made additional exam nation of an average sample from a lot of 300 tons, the result of which, I beg to embrace in the following. The Guano is a brownish powder, with lumps of combinations of lime with Carbonic. Phosphoric and Nitric acids, it contains a considerable quantity of water (about 20 per cent.), and when dried is a paler brown powder. The Guano is evidently of animal origin, and the minute bones, which were discovered in the same, indicate that it is the result of the decay of bats mice, &c. The quantity of organic matter, which is still present, is about 12 per cent., and this yields about 2½ per cent. of ammonia. A portion of the nitrogen is present, as nitric acid, of which about 3 per cent. wa found. All the nitrogen present would be equivalent to about 3½ per cent. of ammonia. The phosphoric acid in the Guano, about 12½ per cent. equal to 27 3 per cent. of bone pho phate. A considerable quantity of the phosphoric acid, however, is present, as so-called neutral phosphate of lime, which, being slightly solvide in water, renders the Guan as quick in its action as a corresponding quantity of superphosphate would do. The small per centage of potesh, which was found in the analysis, adds to its value.

From all the experiments which I have made of the Guanahani Guano, no doubt can exist that it is a valuable manure.

Yours truly,

Liniversity of Pennsylvania.

Dear ir: Yours in regard to the Guano was received some time ago, and as I know very little, personally, about the effect it had, I laid it aside until I could go home and in quire. Hearn that it did improve the wheat to some extent. I did not apply any other Guano. I applied

[Letter from Ex-Governor Smith.] Warrenton, Va., August 4th, 1873. Mr E. A. DUNLAP, Dear Sir: The extraordinary character of the season (a rain almost every day,) puts it wholly out of my power te form an estimate of your Guano. The crops of corn and rutabagas to which it applied, look very fine.

Yours, truly.

WM. SMITH.

Bethel Academy, Fauquier County, Va., July 24th, 1873. Mr. E. A. DUNLAP.

Dear Sir: I used your Guano on my wheat last fall, and I am highly pleased with it. Think it is as good as the high priced Guanos. I have a good paying crop of wheat, and the best stand of grass I ever had, and this is the opinion of those who have seen both, not withstanding the unfavorable winter and early spring. I shall use it again this fall.

Yours,

I used your Guano on wheat last year, and consider it equal to any guano I ever used.

It pleases me well.

Bethel Academ, Fauquier County, Va., November 12, 1873. E. A. DUNLAP, Esq., Dear Sir: If I could have made collections, I certainly would have used two tons o the Guano you sent me this fall.

I consider it better for wheat than any other Guano that has been used in this county since the war.

Respectfully yours, M. C. BLACKWELL. Baltimore, December, 1873.

Mr. E. A. DUNLAP,
Dear Sir: The Guano purchased from , ou. was used upon cain by the side of one of the best ammouiated soluble phosphates in the market. The quality of the land was the same as was the quantity of guano and phosphate used. The corn where the Guano was used appeared to start sconer, and in the fall was fully ten inches higher and ripened earlier than where the Phosphate was used.

Very respectfully, &c.,

E. T. Wroth, Esq., Baltimore, Md.,

Dear Sir: I have your favor of 4th inst., making inquiries as to the results from application of the Guano which you sent me last fall. I applied it at the rate of 170 pounds per acre—the same quantity as of the other fertilizers I was then using. The wheat throughout the field bore much the same general appearance, with perhaps something in favor of your Guano. The grain of my crop on that field was generally of fine quality, and I cannot say that I observed any perceptible difference in its appearance.

The result in quantity, (the most important point,) I regret not to be able to give you. Threshing my crop by steam power, my attention was occupied at many points at the same time, and on one of these occasions this particular parcel of wheat was threshed before I was aware of it, and without any note of its comparative yield. I therefore cannot pronounce positively in its favor, over others; but, from its general appearance, I judge it quite equal to other standard fertilizers of established reputation.

Very respectfully yours,

Wm. HENRY DECOURCY.

Dear Sir: Yours of the 4th received and contents noticed. You must excuse me for not reporting to you sooner the result of the experiment with your Guano. I seeded it by the side of * * * * * 's Raw Bone Super-Phosphate, at the rate of 150 lbs. to the acre, of each. Whilst growing, I, nor any to whom I showed it, could not perceive the least difference. The yield was equally good—about 25 bushels to the acre. I consider it equally as good as * * * * * * 's, in every respect. Please inform me the price, as I intend using some on wheat this fall. Somerset County, Md., Westover, August 8th, 1873.

WM. R. Griffith, Esq., General Agent,
In reply to yours of the 12th, will say, the farmers can say but little, as yet, in regard to Guanahani Guano. But Maj. A. G. Davis, who used one bag, by the side of several other fertilizers, says, so far, the Guanahani looks better than any of the others. All parties say, so far, they can see no difference in their grain wherever it is up sufficient to judge. By the spring, I can give you a more satisfactory report. Hoping to have the pleasure of a visit from you, soon,

I am. truly yours.

I am, truly yours, W. H. B. DORSEY.

P. S.-I have commenced making a stir for the Spring trade. San Marino, Dinwiddie Co., Va., November 15th, 1873.

W. R. Griffith, Esq.,

Dear Sir: Yours of the 12th inst., was received on yesterday, and, in compliance with your request, I hasten to reply. I purchased half ton of Guanahani Guato, from Messrs. Rowlett & Tannor, 1st of October, 1873, to use upon my wheat crop, as an experiment. I applied it 200 lbs. per acre. The wheat was seeded from the 10th to the 17th of October. I was very careful in the application, leaving two strips of land through the field; one of an acre, the other two acres. The one acre strip was manured with **** Phosphate. The two acre strip was in 10bacco, heavily manured with stable manure and *****

Tobacco Fertilizer. I also added a strip of very poor land (stubble) on one end, three-fiths of an acre. Upon this I applied 100 lbs. of Guanahani, and also molstened the wheat and rolled it in the Guano. (I mean the wheat sown upon this three fifths 17ip.) The season has been favorable, and the young wheat is looking very well; and that upon the narrow strip of poor land, equally as good as upon the heavily manured tobacco land. I am satisfied hat the Guano is acting upon this strip of wheat, as the land was very poor. I do not think that it would be well for me to make a positive assertion just yet, bu will carefully note the result and let you hear from me again.

Yours respectfully.

THOS. F. RIVES. San Marino, Dinwiddie Co., Va., November 15th, 1873.

Kingston, Dinwiddie Ce., Va., November 26th, 1873.

Messrs. Rowlett & Tannor,
Dear Sirs: In reply to your inquiries in regard to the Guanahani Guano, which I purchased last summer, I can only say that I applied it on my wheat crop, sowing it broadcast and plowed it in with the wheat. So far, I am vary much pleased with the Guano. Where I used it, the wheat looks better than any I have seen, and my neighbors who have seen it, consider it so. I applied it the first of October, and it shows very plainly over the wheat where there was nothing used.

Very respectfully,

JOHN J. MITCHELL. [Note.-Mr. Mitchell has since ordered 10 tons for his Spring crops ] Millstone Landing, Md., December 1st, 1873.

Mr. E. A. DUNLAP,
Dear Sir: I am just in receipt of your letter, but regret that I did not receive it sooner.
I used your Guano side by side with * * * * * * * Ammoniated Super-Phosphate, and could perceive no difference, only in growth of the straw. The straw from * * * * * * s rather the largest. The grass from it was equally as good, and I do not hesitate in recommending it to farmers as a reliable fe: tilizer.

Very respectfully,

ELKANAH WISE.

Dinwiddie County, Va., November 21st, 1873. Messrs. McIlwaine & Co., Petersburg, Va., Gentlemen: I used the Guanahani Guano, purchased of you, on wheat at the rate of 300 lbs. per acre, on corn land. The wheat is tooking well. I think it will prove a good fertilizer.

A. M. ORGAIN. Sussex County, Va., December 12th, 1873.

Dear Sirs: I used on my wheat, sowed about the 1st of October, a half ton of Guanahani Guano, and so far I am very much pleased with its action. Where I used the Guanahani the wheat is looking remarkably well—a great deal better than the wheat sown on a pea fallow.

Very respectfully,

J. N. WINFIELD. Prince George County, Va., December 18th, 1873. Messrs. Bishop & Branch.

Sirs: You ask me my opinion of the Guanahani Guano I puechased of you last fall.

I used the guano on my wheat, but owing to the unfavorable fall for the growth of wheat, it would be impossible for any manure to show its strength fully. However, I think the guan oa good fertilizer, from the fact, that the wheat looks as well as it does where a well known fertilizer was used that cost nearly double the money.

Respectfully,

A. G. JORDAN.

Petersburg, Va., December 16th, 1873,
WM. R. GRIFFIIH, General Agent of the Guanahani Guano Company, Dear Sir: In reply to your enquiry about the action of the Guanahani Guano on my wheat crop, I would say, up to the present time it is looking very well.
Yours truly,
SAMUEL H. JONES,
Prince George County, Va.

Broad Run Station, Fauquier County, Va., December 4th, 1873. Broad Run Station, Fauquier County, vs., December 4th, 1870.

Mr. E. A. DUNLAP,
Dear Sir: I let one row without your fertilizer, and used it on the next row. I used at the rate of 200 pounds to the acre. I had the corn care ully gathered separate, and found the result as follows: From the Guano row I shelled one bushel and nearly a half gailon; from the row without guano I got a half bushel and not quite a quart; making fully double where I used guano. The growth of stak was not proportionately heavy—the strength seemed to go to the grain. I think it an excellent Spring fertilizer. The land I tried it on was quite thin.

Yours, &c..

Yours, &c., A. D. SMITH. Poplar Mount, Greensville County, Va., December 17th, 1873.

Mes. rs. Rowlett & Tanner,
Gentlemen: Yours of the 15th is received. You ask "How I like the Guanahani Guano, so far?"

In reply I have to say that I used five bags last fall, experimentally. I applied four bags to wheat at the rat? 0! 200 pounds to the acre. I used the same quantity (20) pounds on winter oats. The wheat was not sown until about the 20th of October, but has already a healthy, vigorous blade. The present indications lead me to believe that it is decidedly superior to any of the sup-r-phosphates.

The winter oats we easy the last of September. In the application to this crop, I have, in consequence of earlier seeding, a better opportunity of observing the effect of the Guanahani Guano. Here it is most marked and decided. It reminds me of former dys, when, for a moderate outlay of money, the farmer purchased the pure Chinchs Island. (unadulterated) Peruvian Guano.

I wish to try some of this Guano next year on cotton and tobacco.

I am, very truly yours,

GEORGE W. FIELF. GEORGE W. FIELT. The Company recommend an application of from 200 to 250 pounds per acre, but not over the larger amount.

As it will be impossible to bring but few theusand tons to this country in time for the spring irade, orders must be sent at an early day to secure it.

A Fearful Catastrophe---Over Ten Lives Lost by a Gas Explosion. RUTLAND, VT., Jan. 21 .- The citizens of Remington were startled about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon by a terrific explosion, which was heard for twenty miles away. It proved to be the explosion of the gas works on the premises of H. E. Bradford & Co.'s knitting mills. The gas it seems, had leaked from the pipes until the air was so filled that it took fire from the boiler communicating with the gas holder. The mill is a one story brick building. The ex-plosion lifted the roof and burst out the walls of the building so that the roof fell back crushing many employees. The fire spread instantaneously all over the building and it was half consumed before the fire could be got under control. It was a fearful scene. Many women screaming terribly inside the building, and it was not in the power of any one to help them. Ten are known to be killed. The remains of some of the unfortunate victims were reduced to a mere handful of charred bones, and nothing was left to indicate who they were, except the position in which they were found.

Congressional-The Bankrupt Law-Senator Merrimon on the Currency Question—He Wants a Resumption of Specie Payment, and Argues at Some Length Upon This Point— Merrimon and Edmunds Discus-the Condition of the South—North Carolina Considered by the Speak-

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Petitions for women suffrage are now referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. The Camden Board of Trade don't want the Bankrupt Law repealed. Merrimon, of North Carolina, addressed the Senate. He said our country enjoyed the confidence of its people more than any country on the face of the earth, yet our currency had been less valued than gold by twenty per cent. He argued that it was impossible to make a paper currency equal to gold. It was idle and criminal for Congress to undertake to bring greenbacks up to the standard of gold. We must put ourselves on the level with the commercial nations of the earth, and to do this we must have a gold an 1 silver currency. Until we establish a medium exchange based upon gold and silver, we can never have advantages of commerce. He advocated an immediate resumption of specie payment. The people of the United States had lost 20 per cent. in all their exchanges from the time the greenbacks system began in 1861 until now. If the greenback system continues, depreciation will continue, and it is the duty of Congress to rid the country of this; not only that, the faith of the government had been pledged. He was surprised that not a single definite plan by which we could get back to specie payment had been proposed. The fourth of July 1776 would be the centennial of our Independence, and he trusted that, among the glorious events that would transpire on that day, one of them would be a return to specie payment. Let the gold accumulate in the Treasury over and above the amount necessary to pay interest on the public debt. If that would not be sufficient, put a five per cent. bond on the market which would bring gold at par, and on the fourth day of July, 76, let every dollar of green-backs be redeemed in coin. In the meantime, let the volume of currency be increased. He computed our present circulation at seven hundred and sixty millions, which was not enough by at least one hundred millions. The panic was not over anywhere in the country. New York and New England were manufactur ing States and had debts due them from all sections of the country. Money could be obtained in New York, there was plenty of it there, have not their proper proportion. Edmunds—"How long would it Sherman-"That is another ques-

but to obtain it collateral security equal to money itself must be put up.

He spoke of the unequal distribution of the currency and the pressing needs of the South on account thereof. He said the Comptroller of the currency had the authority now to withdraw twenty-five millions from

New England and give it to the South and West, or States which Merrimon said in reply to the Senator from Vermont, he would say if the money was down there it would go back very slowly if the banks of New York and New England did not offer the same interest for it as those States pay interest upon the money that goes there. He denied that the currency was redun-dant as compared with the circula-tion of France and England. Those country. Our greenback system, which might be termed bloated, had many debts contracted under it. The agreements were that these debts should be liquidated in greenbacks. Now it is progreenbacks. Now it is pro-posed to contract the currency which would compel their payment in a more precious medium than the one under which they were created. He would postpone the time for specie resumption to July 4, 1876, on account of the business of the country being based on this bloated currency, but by putting it off until that time the people, seeing the monitary sys-tem devised by Congress, would regulate business to that end, so that it would adjust itself to the new system. He was opposed to the national banking system, and thought it a vast monopoly founded wholly upon credit and essentially a credit currency, and therefore twenty per cent. less valuable than gold. In the next place, every dollar of the capital stock was in the United States Treasury and the banks received five per cent. from the government on bonds put it to the world, to answer if industry could prosper and pay such per centage for money. He main-tained the volume of currency could not be fixed by law, it could not be controlled by politicians and statesmen, and Congress should not therefore undertake to regulate it. Merchants and business men of the nation would fix it. The banks should belong to the people and not to the government. He would like to see Congress grant a charter for a great national bank. Let the shares be at $25 each, so the whole people could have stock in it. Let the capital stock be one hundred millions of dollars, and Directors be in every State. In time of war such a bank would come to the relief of the government and be of essential benefit. Sectional interests had once came near destroying the government and unless Congress do something to produce an equilibrium of industries, more trouble would be the result. Edmunds inquired if the gentleman believed Congress could produce this equilibrium, could it say how many factories there should be, where located, &c.

Merrimon said Congress could improve the harbors and rivers of the West, open up the national advantages, encourage ship building and thousands of other things could be done to produce such equilibrium. But while we go on with this sectional legislation, California with one interest, new England with another, the South with another, and when they come in conflict will result in the clash of arms. They did it once and would do it again. Edmunds said he did not rise for the purpose of continuing this debate, but he thought the natural tendency of money was to the pockets of those having the right to it. He knew of no contrivance by which Congress could keep money in any section unless the circumstances of the people in such section should entitle them to keep the money. Every | the grand innaugration ball to be citizen has the right to put his money given by the citizens of Austin. where he thinks he can make the most out of it. Congress nor any other power could interfere with this right of the people. Money is always flowing where it has the right to rest. Granting that fifty millions more be given to the South and West, it would fluctuate to the pockets of those entitled to it. He did not believe there was a dollar more in Vermont now than there would be if every bank in the State was removed to Louisiana. Every man entitled to money would have it in his pocket, and no contrivance or legislation could force money to remain in the West or South until by industry and economy, the people would entitle themselves to become the owners of it. New must send it where it belongs, and the same if she owed the South. If the South owes New England, the money must come there. To provide therefore by law any policy which would compel the circulating medium to remain in one section rather than another, was an impossibility. Merrimon said the Senator from Vermont, Edmunds, went upon the principle that the commercial interests of the country were in a normal condition. There were circumstances which have forced the money from the West and the South. The South produced 350 millions of dollars worth

England could not keep money which she owed to the West. She of cotton annually, and the money to pay for it should be at the South. What in the natural course of things took it away? There was something wrong some where—some false basis. If the people of the South had the capital, they would build up cities and towns, construct railroads, open mines, and Wall street, instead of being in New York would be in Charleston, Savannah or New Orleans. Our industrial affairs are not in their normal state.

Edmunds said the Senator spoke of the people of the South having capacity to develope resources if they had the capital. How were they to get that capital?

Merrimon-"We wish your people to come there." (?) Edmunds—"Well, Mr. President, to that I say amen." But how are they to go there? Will they find equal justice in the courts? Will they find honest labor respected? If the South desires capital she must show calm and deliberate justice for all, administered in every State, so that life and property will be as safe as in New England. Then the capital of New England will go there and the resources of the country will be developed, but not until then will the people invest their hard earnings under uncertainties. Let the South do all she can to promote equal justice, have peace and order every where, then Northern capital would Merrimon said he hoped they would cease to hear that a man's life was not safe in the South. The war is over and these statements should be of the past. He would assure the gentleman that any body from New England or California was just as safe in his State, North Carolina, or any where in the South as if he were in Vermont or any where in New England. Take the statistics of crime, and the ratio of crime and outrage were in favor of the South two to Edmunds said he had been told on good authority that a man who went to the city of Newbern, in the gentleman's own State, and established business, was entirely ignored. He had committed no crime, yet no one noticed him, and the only reason for countries were densely populated, and exchange was small. Another hundred millions put in circulation would revive the business of the lina or to his friend from that State, but he would say that until it became respectable for a man from New England to engage in commercial pur-suits in North Carolina, just so long would the South wither and cry for more money which she cannot get. Merrimon said in the case in Newbern referred to by the gentleman, there were some circumstances connected with the man which depfiyed him of that society he sought to enter. A few days ago the Treasurer of the United States stopped at Charlotte. A grand reception was tendered him, and so well was he pleased that he remained there several days. The statements whispered in the ears of his honored friend, Edmunds, were not true. Respectable people were welcome in the South, no matter where from. With a man seeking society in the South it was just the same as seeking it in New Englan ! If he was worthy he could go into society. Edmunds said he was glad to know these statements in regard to the illtreatment of people in the South deposited in the Treasury.

He next spoke of rates of interest, and said he put it to the Senate, he of the United States army sent to any particular post or station, was received into society. He, Edmunds, had visited the South and had been told that the only people who associated with army officers, were those who were termed scallawags by those of their own section. Merrimon-"Will my friend allow me to state that I know that is not true in my own State?" Edmunds said he was glad to hear that times had changed since he was in the South in 1866. He had received his information from army officers. and he had high respect for them, as they had been taught to tell the truth as well as to work it out some times with ther own good words. Edmunds then, at 3:15, moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of Executive business, which motion prevailed. At 4:30 the doors were re-opened, and the Senate adjourned. House.-Engaged all day on the Centennial Celebration. Pinchback did not succeed in getting an interview with the President, who was talking with Creswell. Pinchback believes that treachery is the cause of his defeat, and is hard at work for a new election.

Texas Affairs-All Quiet-Contest for U. S. Senator. AUSTIN, TEXAS, Jan. 21st.-The President of the Senate, has discharged the assistant Sergeants at Arms, there being no further use for them. The vote for the other State officers has been counted and the majorities averaged the same as the Governor's, which now reaches fifty thousand; the returns of several counties were found in the office of the Secretary of State. The returns of about forty counties have not as yet been received. The contest for United States Senator increases in interest. There are now five candidates as follows:

Messrs. Throckmorton, Reagan, Dumorse, Morey and Flournoy. Preparations are being made for The State Journal has suspended and its office is offered for sale.
